

PERINATAL RESOURCES, INC.
FACULTY DISCLOSURE

In accordance with the ACCME (Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education) Standards for Commercial Support, it is the policy of Perinatal Resources, Inc. to insure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all of its CME activities. All faculty participating in PRI-sponsored CME activities are required to disclose to the program audience any significant financial interests or other relationships you or your spouse/partner have with the manufacturer of any commercial product discussed in your educational presentations that you have, or have had, in the past 12 months. This pertains to relationships with pharmaceutical companies, biomedical device manufacturers, or other corporations whose products or services are related to the subject matter of the presentation. The intent of this policy is merely to make the audience aware of the faculty's interest prior to the presentation(s). All conflicts of interest must be resolved before the beginning of the activity.

Dear Dr. O'Malley:

According to the faculty disclosure form that you completed, you indicated that you, or your spouse, have commercial relationships with the following companies:

GlaxoSmithKline and Ortho Biotech

In order to help us comply with ACCME regulations, please sign section A or check the box in section B and return this form to our office upon receipt.

A. If the relationship(s) have no direct bearing on your presentations, then please sign the following attestation:

Although there exist commercial relationships, the content of my presentations are based on Evidence Based Medicine, free of any commercial interest.

B. If any form of commercial interest exists in your presentations (recommendations involving the commercial interest, trade names of pharmaceutical drugs/devices, etc.), then there is a conflict of interest. Please check the box and we will send you information on how to resolve the conflict.

There exists in my presentations a conflict of interest.

If you have any questions, please call our office.

Sincerely,

Stacy Bolzenius
CME Manager
